

Acknowledgments

To many people, who unselfishly extended their advice and help, I owe my sincerest thanks: Denise Sallee and Rose McLendon, former and present Local History Librarians of the Harrison Memorial Library in Carmel; Mary Murray, former Curator at the Monterey Museum of Art; Barbara Rominski, Head Librarian of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art; Harvey Jones, former Senior Curator at The Oakland Museum of California; Jeff Gunderson, Librarian of the San Francisco Art Institute; Mary Jebson, Assistant Director of the Museum of Fine Arts in Santa Fe, New Mexico; Candice L. Hart, Archivist for Hamline University in St. Paul, Minnesota; Jeanne V. Diller, Director of Inter-Library Loan at the Oakland Public Library; Maggie McElligott, Secretary of the San Francisco Women Artists; Jeanne Farr McDonnell, Chair of the History Committee of the Palo Alto Women's Club; Neal Hotelling, Pebble Beach Company Historian; Dennis Copeland, Coordinator of the California History Room and Archives of the Monterey Public Library; Susan Klusmire, former Director of the Carmel Art Association; Steve Staiger, Archivist for the Palo Alto Historical Association; Judy Throm, Archivist at the Archives of American Art in the Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C.; Dena McDuffie, Archivist at the Arizona Historical Society, Tucson; Nancy Sutherland, Librarian at the Art Research Library of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art; Amanda Jacobs, Art Librarian of the Paul Mills Library and Archives at the Oakland Museum of California; Kathy M. L. Evavold, Curator of Collections at Minnesota's Otter Tail County Historical Society; Janice Woo, Librarian of the California College of Arts, Oakland; Jack von Euw, Curator of the Bancroft Pictorial Collection; Daniel Hartwig, Stanford University Archivist of Special Collections and University Archives; Amy Dunning, Archivist at the Museum of Art & History in Santa Cruz; Dennis Frederick Baker, Consultant at Ronald G. Pisano, Inc.; Phil Kovinick; and Edan Hughes.

For their assistance I thank the reference staff of the: Fogelman Library and Kellen Archive Center at Parsons, The New School for Design in New York City; Minnesota Historical Society Library; Bancroft Library at U.C. Berkeley; Sutro State Library in San Francisco; History Room at the San Francisco Public Library; California State Library in Sacramento; Mills College Library in Oakland; History Room at the Oakland Public Library; Berkeley Historical Society; as well as the Public Libraries in Berkeley, Alameda and Pacific Grove.

I am indebted to the relatives of Jennie Vennerström Cannon for their cooperation and kindness: Dr. George David Dixon, Mrs. Carol Vennerström Dixon; Eleanor ("Ellie") Malzahn Jacobsen; and especially to Jennie's granddaughter, great-granddaughter and great-grandson – Joan Eloise Cannon Tweit, Susan Joan Tweit Cabe and William Michael Tweit.

To my beloved partner of many years, Lawrence Edward Brown, I owe more than mere words can express. His encouragement and unhesitating support of my research made possible this publication.
